Penusylvania Election.

The elections in Pennsylvania for Governor, Members of Congress and of the State Legislature will come off on the 10th of next month. The contest is unusually warm even for Pennsylvania-the element of Know Nothingism having imparted fresh interest to the contest, into which it has infused an extra dash of venom. The success of the "Know Nothings" at the municipal elections in Philadelphia, in July last, gave to that organization the complete control of the whig party, and consequently led to the proscription of many of the purest and best men in the whig ranks, such as Mr. Chandler and others. That same success has drawn into the vortex all the hungry and disappointed from the old parties, who aspire to a portion of the spoils which the original getters up of the affair had appropriated in anticipation as their own prescriptive plunder. This has sowed dissensions in the ranks. It would seem also that several candidates for office, totally unfit for at least acquiesce and oppose agitation. The whigs in ed to bully Congress upon the Slavery question, "in Pennsylvania, as a general rule, are either in alliance the name of the Most High God." We are opposed with the "Know-Nothings" or at least tacitly sym- to all such things, from Pope or parson, preacher or such Whigs as Mayor Conrad, and others of that sort. 16th inst The overwhelming defeats of the Democracy in the municipal elections which took place in Philadelphia and elsewhere throughout the State, during the year, had led us to anticipate a democratic defeat in the State elections in the fall, vet recent events have somewhat changed our views. The reaction has commenced even sooner than we had anticipated. The causes already mentioned have been at work to resolve the Whig Know-Nothing coalition into its original elements, and to destroy the character and prestige of the would-be mysterious mushroom which has been astonishing the feeble for some time past. It is by no means improbable that the Democrats may triumph throughout, in the re-election of their candidate for Governor, as well as in securing a majority in the State Legislature and in the Congressional delegation. We believe the present whig-Know Nothing municipal officers in Philadelphia received in July last a majority in all but two wards out of the twenty-four into which the consolidated city is subdivided-the aggregate majority against the Democrats being about ten thousand. We feel confident that this will be reduced next month to almost nothing, and, indeed should not at all be surprised if the majority should turn the other way.

struggle, through which, sooner or later, the country Journal 19th inst. must pass--perhaps the sooner the better-a struggle exceeding in intensity of feeling and de cisiveness of result any yet experienced. It may be, however, that the great struggle will be upon the granting of money for carrying out the treaty of purchase; for it must be obvious that when Cuba is admitted, it can only be admitted as a Slave State .-This is now the rallying cry of the North-of their "Harpers" and "Putnams," as well as of their "Tribunes" and "Times"—that no more slave States shall be admitted into the Union. The acquisition of Cuba must bring this to the test. Cuba must either come into the present Union with her slave labor, or she must come into a Southern Confederacy-that will be the issue presented, and that will be the issue well be had over Cuba as anything else.

too far or it did not go far enough. It went sufficiently far to excite expectations which no party called to power could realize. A mere change of medicine will not make a sick man well; neither will a change of Ministers, or even of measures, heal the wounds of a nation. It did not go far enough, the chance of working out their own salvation. The price of other produce or labor. leading idea of the Spanish patriot is opposition to the centralization at Madrid-the government of the corrupt clique at the Capital. This system is not in any way changed; the provincial assemblies are no more independent, nor the municipalities more free. Without some change in this respect can be made, Spain will not be quiet-and then the chance is not very strong. Neither Espartero nor any other man or men can, simply by assuming the reigns of government, redress the wrongs and heal the wounds, or give stamina to a nation weakened and corrupted by centuries of misconduct and misgovernment; and yet this is what is expected. Of course, it cannot be realized, and, of course, another change must take place, and so on. What the end may be, requires some wiser head than ours even to conjecture.

The Washington Union denies the truth of the ramors that a treaty for the annexation of the Sandwich Islands had arrived in the last steamer from the Pacific. After full enquiry the Union cannot learn that any such treaty has reached the state department.

The Newark Difficulty.

The Commercial of this morning seems wilfully to have misunderstood our remarks about the Newark difficulty. We go for punishing peacebreakers, be they who they may, with the utmost rigor of the law. If, as asserted, a wanton disturbance of a peaceful procession was perpetrated, let the perpetrators be punished and execrated-but, at the same time, let this punishment and execration be meted out in accordance with law and the evidence adduced ance was occasioned by persons inimical to the procession, then they, as the instigators of that disturbance, are so far criminal; and it was, no doubt, perfeetly natural that those composing the procession should repel violence by violence. But in the matter of the Church which was sacked, we repeat that the evidence shows that no assault of any kind was aimed from that building. This is testified to by Protestant witnesses--and we are certainly surprised that the Commercial should applaud the turning of mob violence, or any other violence, against any evidence before a legal tribunal.

As for occupying space in a secular journal with The New York Herald gives circulation to a rumor discussions about religious sects, the Commercial

The speculators are down in the mouth. Their calculations of enormous profits from famine prices bid fair to prove delusive. The advices from Europe indicate not only a fair, but even an enormous crop.
